

Prior to getting our new Road Force Balancers, we had older Road Force Balancers. The reason for replacing our old balancers, we were where having come backs and problems zeroing weight. The problem was occurring after 5 years of continues use the Balancer shaft and cones were worn out.

Our balancers have been in service for less than a year and no matter what we balance the techs don't chase weight and we have not had any more come backs. With these new Balancers Tacoma and Tundra trucks tires are now as easy to balance as Camry tires.

With the ability of SmartWeight to track what the balancers are actually doing and saving make these Balancers a must-have for any shop that wants to increase there bottom line. The Balancers put numbers in weight saving but it the time saving to the techs of not chasing weight and happy customers!
